Since 1977

In the late 70's, Blake Annable started importing sports equipment and selling them door-to-door at mom and pop sporting goods shops throughout Western Canada. Operating out of his classic Ford van for those many road trips across British Columbia and Alberta and distributing his wares from a dry cleaner's basement in North Vancouver, founder Blake Annable created Promark, which would later evolve into STORMTECH.

“This is a business built totally on relationships.”
– Blake Annable, Stormtech Founder
